Activities Of Red Cross Broadened

Local Chapter Closes Its Year With Much Good To Its Credit

The business year of the National Red Cross closed June 30 and Miss Vannier, chairman of the local Chapter, states that the officers and directors feel that the Sierra Madre chapter has a fine record of community service for the past 12 months.

"At times," she said, "the outlook for keeping our headquarters open was rather gloomy. We have felt the hard times in a material falling off in financial support and the means of continuing our work was not always clear to our eyes. But always the way opened. We feel we are doing a much greater community service along welfare lines than the majority of our citizens realize. Through the last three years the Red Cross has greatly broadened its activities and our little office is, in a large measure, the clearing house for a large share of the welfare work being done in this city.

"Miss Louise Judson, our executive secretary, works in complete harmony and cooperation with all the local agencies such as the Parent Teachers, the Legion and Auxiliary committees and the churches, as well as the County Health and Welfare departments and our own city officials. It is because of this coordination of effort that so much has been accomplished at so little cost.

"Because our chapter is active and functioning, quantities of government surplus food and clothing have been sent here and have been distributed to those in need. No small part of the value of the headquarters is that people in need and trouble have a definite place where they can be sure of a sympathetic and understanding hearing. Financial assistance is necessarily limited but they soon realize that any help available will be given and often they are shown a way around their difficulties."

The secretary's report among other varied assistance given shows the following items which are of particular interest: Clothing distributed, 1,560 new garments, 319 used garments; Government surplus food, 6,079 pounds staples, 300 dozen eggs, 135 sacks flour; milk purchased and delivered to homes, 1,580 quarts; food purchased and delivered to homes, value $646.35.

Also there is listed much "incidental aid," which means furnishing transportation to hospitals and health centers, loan of articles for the sick from the emergency chest, repairing of shoes, visits to homes in cases of sickness as well as innumerable other personal services. An average of fifty-eight families per month have been aided in various ways.

State Game Expert Coming To Address Legion And Friends

Director Bandini, public relations official of the California State Fish and Game Commission, has accepted an invitation from officials of the Sierra Madre American Legion Post to address a meeting of the conservation committees of the various legion posts of the 18th district, to be held at the City Hall here on July 19.

The local post will be host at a supper and the meeting to be addressed by Bandini will be thrown open to the public. This speaker scored a decided hit when he addressed a meeting of Legionnaires at Azusa recently.

Young Artist-Flyer Originates Unique "Sculpture" Method

James Dewey, Sierra Madre aviator son of artist Alfred James Dewey, broke into the pages of the Popular Science magazine this month with an illustrated story—but not through his exploits in the air.

Following in his father's artistic footsteps, young Dewey originated an absolutely unique method of "sculpture" by which he fashions ash-tray ornaments and like novelties using a small blowtorch instead of a chisel, and wrought iron in place of marble or clay.

Unaided by preliminary models or sketches, the artist-flyer builds up unusual grotesque figures, bit by bit, modeling the white hot metal with an oxy-actetylene torch. The entire work is finally varnished.

Delay Opening Of Playgrounds At The Schools Here

Delay in opening the summer playgrounds at the public school and at St. Rita's was occasioned this week by the failure of the SERA office to foreward work orders for the instructors who have been designated. It was planned that both playgrounds would open Monday, fully equipped with paraphernalia and attended by experienced instructors.

According to Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, grammar school principal, work orders must arrive at the City Hall before the playground supervisors may assume their duties. Necessary equipment, which will make it possible for children to engage in practically any out of door game they choose, is being provided by the local P.T.A.

Baseball, tennis, croquet, pingpong, model airplane and shipbuilding, sewing for the girls, and even instruction in folk dancing will be available as soon as the grounds are opened under proper supervision, states Mrs. D. Vanderpool, P.T.A. recreation chairman.

Kiwanians Beat Snappy Pomona Team

Big Crowd Sees Locals Win One Of Season's Most Exciting Games

The cheering crowd that saw the Kiwanians polish off the Lightning Delivery nine from Pomona by a score of 5 to 2 last Thursday night saw one of the best ball games played here this year. The visiting team was one of the snappiest, best looking outfits seen in a long time. The game was close enough to be exciting until the last inning and there was plenty of action throughout.

Hoover, visiting hurler, is credited with the longest home run ever hit on the school field. He banged the old pill so far into deep center that he had crossed the pan before the fielder recovered the ball. The home fans gave him a great hand.

Hedley, Kiwanians short fielder, had a perfect day at bat. In his three trips to the plate he whanged out three safeties and scored as many runs. Marsh hit three out of four times up and Ed LaLone parked the apple safely in two out of three attempts.

The locals led off with a run in the second and in their half of the third the visitors came back to tie the score. The Kiwanians took the lead in their turn at bat by sending two over and the Lightnings tightened up the game by counting again in the sixth. Two more Kiwanians registered in the eighth, sewing up the game for the visitors were

Slight Gain In Building Shown Here

Showing a gain of $300 in building activity for the first half of 1934 as compared with a similar six months period in 1933, Sierra Madre permits issued at the City Hall since January 1st total $33,612.50. In June $2,372 worth of construction and repair work was done, the amount being slightly smaller than the corresponding sum expended in June, 1933.

In addition to numerous small repair and alteration jobs, during the month, there were several extensive additions and construction projects started, including a residence being erected by Lorne Dunn at 179 Grove street. At 57 West Laurel, Mabel Appleby constructed a screen porch and pergola and reroofed her home.

G .A. Smart, of 98 South Lima, built a garage, as did Virginia Floyd at her 75 Bonita residence. W. J. Scanlon is remodeling his house at 635 Grand View avenue, while H. S. Craig is erecting a garage as well as adding to his house at 475 Woodland Drive. A new garage is being constructed by F. B. Olds at 272 East Highland; both P. R. Clive, 618 Woodland Drive, and W. F. Thayer, at 435 Grove street, added screen porches for the summer months.

Makes Plea For Safety Of Children

Kiwanis Speaker Urges Support Of Bond Issue To Strengthen Schools

Protection of Sierra Madre students attending the Pasadena Junior College through support of the $375,000 bond issue for the rehabilitation of school buildings in the Pasadena district was urged by Warren Holland, of the Pasadena Lion's Club, in a talk at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club here Tuesday noon.

Holland asked that the Kiwanis organization join with other service clubs in an attempt to wield the ballot to correct the present situation wherein pupils are handicapped by having to attend classes in makeshift tent classrooms.

"Sierra Madre, and other communities within the Pasadena school district," he stated, "face an emergency. Our school system is magnificent, but unhappily the school buildings are in such condition as to jeopardize the system. . . . There must be either the sacrifice of lowered educational standards or the sacrifice on the part of the taxpayer involved in a slightly higher tax burden."

Touching on the difference between the coming bond election and the former issue which went down to defeat at the polls, the speaker said: "Then it was thought that we were voting to determine whether or not, in the public opinion, the hazards to safety offered by existing buildings warranted the expenditure of large sums of money for their strengthening. But now the question is: Is the secondary educational program of the Pasadena high school district of sufficient value to warrant the expenditure of funds to properly house it?

"We cannot carry on our educational program without buildings . . . we cannot continue to occupy the buildings we have without strengthening them to conform with State laws.

"To meet the immediate situation without closing the schools the Board of Education has erected 50 tents at the Junior College according to specifications of the Satae Division of Architecture. Between now and next fall the citizens of Sierra Madre and Pasadena must decide either to completely abandon the schools —to put up enough tents to house all classes—or to strengthen the buildings to bring them up to the state specifications."

He stated that by extensive survey the Lion's Club has ascertained that by the most economical means of financing possible, the proposed bond issue will both properly strengthen the school buidings and effect an ultimate saving to the district taxpayers of approximately a halt million dollars. The financing method to be followed allows for a bond issue of $375,000, cash on hand made available by sale of inter-district sale of property amounting to $290,000, and $195,000 taken from three years of current taxes.

"The use of bonds to finance public improvements," he continued, "has often been abused by American communities in the past, for they have led to overbuilding and extravagence. But bond issues are really sound when the money is to be spent for absolute necessities, and when the funds can be raised in no other prictical way."

William J. Lawless, who recently represented the local club at the Kiwanis international convention in Toronto, told of his experiences en route and at the convention. He also told of his return trip through the Panama Canal.

Much impressed with the many accomplishments of the Kiwanis International, Lawless made several comparisons of the functions of various clubs, and noted that the care of underpriveleged childern is being emphasized in many of the clubs. A number of visitors from Pasadena, Alhambra, San Gabriel and Monrovia were welcomed by President William Middough, and introduced to the gathering.

New Doubles Team Wins Championship On City's Courts

The doubles team of Louis Fuller and Graham Patterson took the city title Saturday afternoon by defeating Don Blanke and Raymond Fox in straight sets, 6-1 and 7-5. Patterson, latest tennis protege of Fuller, played a smoothly consistent game, his chief weakness being in the service department.

Two Women Get Quick Action From NEWS Ads

IF YOU want anything— no matter what it might be— why not use the WANT AD coulmn in THE NEWS? Two Sierra Madre women did so and were amazed at the results.

Mrs. Leila Roulette, of 377 Sycamore street, lost her glasses . . . valuable ones She was advised to insert an ad in the "Lost and Found" division and the glasses came home to her pronto. "I was really surprised," said Mrs Roulette. "THE NEWS had barely been delivered when I recovered my glasses."

Mrs. T. L. Blanke, of North Sunnyside, had some pet kittens. She had to dispose of them but was eager to find good homes for them, and so she inserted an ad in THE NEWS.

"Well," she said, "imagine my surprise when cars began to roll up and the kittens were on their way to good homes before I had time to read my NEWS. I could have found homes for a score of kittens."

Candidates For Legion Posts Named

Three Nominated For Commander And Eight For Six Executive Committee

Cy Young, George Lovejoy and Victor Hill were nominated for commander of the local Legion post at the organization's first nomination meeting in the City Hall dugout Monday night.

Thorne Mathis, Bill Schwartz and James Irvine were nominated for first vice-commander, while Sam Graham was named for Finance officer and Herbert Mangham was the sole nominee for historian. George Smith was nominated as sergeant-at-arms.

Eight nominations for the executive committee were made, the nominees including Colonel H. B. Hersey, A. G. Goodier, James Irvine, Eugene Holliger, J. E. O'Grady, Bill Schwartz, Oliver Wastun, Harvey Steinberger and Merlin P. Livingston. Of this number six men will be elected at the election early in August. Further nominations for various offices may be made Monday night, July 16th.

Three Legionnaires wil l be chosen at the next meeting to represent the local post at the dpartment State convention to be held in San Francisco, August 12-15.

Phil Dodson Seeks Seat In Congress

Phil Dodson, Sierra Madre's city solicitor and former Commander of the American Legion in California, has become an active candidate for Congress in the 12th district, now represented by J. H. Hoeppel, of Arcadia.

In his platform Dodson takes a strong stand against expenditure of Federal relief funds for any save permanent improvements that will be of lasting benefit. Other things advocated by the candidate are old age pensions to be financed by the federal government; regulation of the liquor traffic and the complete elimination of the bootlegger; ample compensation for the worthy disabled war veteran with the elimination of the chisler; universal draft law which would include capital as well as men and the elimination of profit from war.

Can't Sell Corn Grown In His Own Home Garden

On complaint of Fred Osti, who pays an annual license fee to the city for the privilege of selling vegetables, Clemente Alimillo was restrained by local police Saturday from selling corn in Sierra Madre canyon. Alimillo had thought because the corn was gorwn in his own yard by his own hand that he needed no license, but local ordinances make no special provision concerning homegrown produce it was discovered.

Open Door To Everyone To Boost City

Chamber Of Commerce Begins Drive To Get City Before Worlds Fair

When a number of letters urging the Chamber of Commerce to make all haste in the preparation and publication of a new booklet setting forth the advantages of this city as a home place were read at a meeting of that organization Monday night, the directors adopted a resolution amending its by-laws so as to give every citizen an opportunity to join in the city's advancement through a membership in the Chamber at a nominal fee.

The amendment makes it possible for any citizen or property owner to join the Chamber during the remainder of this year for $1. During the same period any business house may take out a membership for $5—the proceeds in each instance to be applied to the cost of producing a folder that will be distributed throughout the country.

Action by the local Chamber of Commerce was hastened by a letter from the California State Chamber of Commerce announcing that through exhaustion of the fund set aside by the State government for the advertisment of California communities at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago, the State Chamber had undertaken this responsibility and that folders were on hand for distribution to World's Fair visitors for almost every community in the State, excepting Sierra Madre.

"Your charming home community with its fine mountain setting, exceptional climate and general desirability should be presented to the thousands of visitors to the Fair who are eagerly seeking the most that California has to offer the home seekers," wrote the assistant secretary in charge of the World's Fair office of the State Chamber of Commerce, "yet we have absolutely nothing to offer Fair visitors from Sierra Madre in the way of a folder or literature."

An explanation by the secretary-terasurer that there are no funds available for publication of another folder brought a motion from Tom Tyler that membership in the Chamber be thrown open to every business house and citizen at a reduced rate for a limited period so that all might have a hand in boosting the city. It was unanimously adopted.

A number of letters urging the Chamber to formally offer inducements to property owners, owners of rental property and business houses to join with it in preparation of a booklet were read. A number contained contributions to further the project.

Prosperous Season For Canyon Park

Pointing to the most prosperous summer season here since boom days, vacationists from the beach towns and the metropolitan area poured into Sierra Madre Canyon in unprecedented numbers on the 4th of July holiday. Canyon realtors report they had a difficult time filling all the orders for summer cottages, and the great majority of available cabins and apartments are already occupied by early visitors.

The swimming pool, picnic grounds, scenic trails and picturesque mountain glens combine to provide a desirable vacation spot for the beach resident who is tired of sand and ocean and desires the cool shade of evergreen trees and who wishes to swim in fresh mountain water for a change.

For all of the large out of town crowd, and the many local people who spent Wednesday in the canyon, there was not a single accident to mar the pleasure of the day. Sensible caution on the part of picnickers and motorists resulted in a complete absence of fires, and Chief of Police McMillan reports that all fireworks rules were admirably obeyed in all sections of the city. During the day there was an occasional explosion, and after nightfall there were a number of sparkler displays, but police were not obliged to confiscate any illegal firewoks—and, surprisingly, not even a finger was scorched by burning powder.

Postal Employes Back On Their Old Salary Schedule

Mail clerks and carriers were informed this week of the restoration of the automatic salary regulation suspended by the President's economy proclamation. Pay checks of all Federal employes who suffered 10 percent salary reductions will be fattened to old time proportions, while the pay of postal employes receiving from $1700 to $2100 a year is to be increased $100 yearly.

Registration Figure Hits Record Mark

Democrats Take Lead In This County As Date For Primary Contests Nears

Promise of a record registration for the August primary appeared yesterday when County Registrar William M. Kerr reported total registrations of 1,250,000, the highest previous record being 1,242,856 for the presidential election in 1932. One reason given is that persons applying for county relief must be registered voters, also the fact that there is unusual interest in the political campaign under way.

Registrations for the primary will close July 19, including not only new registrations, but those who have changed their residence or wish to change their party affiliation .

The Democrats continue to hold the lead. The last tabulation was as follows:

Los Angeles city—Republican, 299,562; Democratic, 354,820; Socialist, 3461; Prohibition, 2265; declined to state, 49,519; Liberty, 433; Progressive, 524; Commonwealth, 691; Communist, 264. Total, 711,541.

Los Angeles county outside of the city—Republican, 254,192; Democrat, 241,019; Socialist, 2549; Prohibition, 3880; declined to state, 30,031; Liberty, 414; Progressive, 182; Commonwealth, 239; Communist, 176. Total, 532,682.

Curb Asked On Reckless Motorists

Police Petitioned To Help Cut Down Accidents And Fatalities

Sierra Madre's Chamber of Commerce joined in the Statewide campaign of the California State Chamber of Commerce to reduce the appalling number of motor car accidents at its meeting this week, by adoption of a resolution calling upon local police to more rigidly enforce the State traffic regulations and the city ordinances, and upon City Judge Neale and the higher courts to impose more severe penalties where convictions for traffic law violations are secured. The resolution follows:

RESOLVED: That the directors of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce recommend that the police officers of this city be supported and encouraged by the members of this organization and by the citizens generally, in their efforts to enforce the traffic laws and ordinances: and further recommended that when offenders are convicted after a fair trial, that a sufficiently heavy punishment be imposed to discourage a repetition of the offense."

Citing the fact that an all-time record of deaths was established in 1931 when 33,675 persons were killed in automobile accidents and that a million more non-fatal injuries were sustained, the State Chamber of Commerce has asked civic bodies everywhere to co-operate in the movement to cut down the number of fatalities and the huge property loss resulting from motor car collisions, due mostly to speeding, reckless and drunk driving.

Paralysis Cases Are On The Decline

The State health department this week expressed the belief that the peak of the infantile paralysis epidemic in Los Angeles County had been passed, the number of cases gradually declining. Since the disease spread started in January there have been a total of 1,222 cases in the State, and of this number, 959 were in this county. Sierra Madre, Arcadia and Monrovia continue to be amnog the few districts unaffected.

Clear Field For Martin At Primary

Assemblyman Will Fight It Out With One Of Two Democrats In Fall

When the rush of office seekvoters subsided and the dust had voters substided and the dust had settled, it was discovered that Assemblyman Frank G. Martin of this 48th legislative district is unopposed for renomination at the Republican primary election of August 28.

Martin will fight it out at the November election with either O. D. Hunt, a straight-out Democrat, or Mrs. F. M. Worthington, who is supported by the Sinclair forces. Both filed as candidates for the Democratic nomination. Both have appeared at public meetings here. Martin issued a statement on the situation this week in which he said:

"I strongly feel that the menacing political situation in California, with its threat of Sinclairism, challenges the Republican party to a renewal of vigor, energy, aggressiveness and progressiveness. I fervently hope that all groups and elements in this Assembly District who retain loyalty to Republican faith will join existing Republican organizations or form new ones to wage a very enthusiastic, well-directed and uncompromising campaign for Republican success.

"We of Republican faith candidly admit that sometimes mistakes in party leadership and party methods, occur in the Republican party, as they have occurred and are occurring in the Democratic party. Individual citizens of all political faiths make mistakes. Political parties are made up of individuals, therefore are fallible. But we of Republican faith believe that our party inherently is sound, serviceable and successful in its general aims, which have made this Nation strong and prosperous in the past and will lead it back to strength and well-distributed prosperity in the future. We believe the Republican party's mistakes should be corrected within the party, and not by deserting the party.

"I sincerely hope and I strongly urge that Republican women of this Forty-eighth Assembly District will become intensively active for Republicanism in this campaign. We all remember with pride and gratification the splendid work done by Republican women of this District two years ago.

"I feel now, as I have felt for some time, that the hope of reviving the Republican party and putting its feet on the road to new victories and new opportunities for usefulness in governing this State and the Nation, lies largely with young voters. I should like very much to see the young Republicans of this Forty-eighth Assembly District become intensively active in the campaign this year in behalf of the Republican ticket."

Pension Plan Is Strongly Supported

Much interest in the Townsend old age pension plan was shown here Saturday night as a large crowd was present in the Council Chambers at the City Hall to hear talks describing the benefits of the revolving pensions. According to local petition circulators who are working in Sierra Madre, approximately one thousand signatures have been secured to date in support of the pension plan and only three or four individuals have expressed themselves as opposed to the principle.

Details of the plan were presented by John B. Dundore, district director of Old Age Revolving Pensions, Ltd., and Dr. Dick, both of Pasadena. It is estimated that California's population would be tripled in the event that the United States adopts the $200 a month pension.

Dr. F. E. Townsend of Long Beach ,originator of the Townsend plan, asserted in a talk in Pasadena that a large percentage of elderly persons would "take the first train for California" as soon as an assured income made it possible for them to choose their place of residence. Warning against prohibitive income taxes, he pointed out that the pension fund would be created and maintained by imposition of a sales tax that would be applied without exceptions of exemptions.

JUDGE LINDSEY WILL ADDRESS THE FORUM

Judge Ben Lindsey has been secured as guest speaker at next Tuesday's Forum meeting, and in expectancy of a record attendance the school auditorium has been secured for the evening. A talk on current events will be given by Harold Carew. Last Tuesday's meeting was cancelled because of the holiday.

BILL MYERS SKATING IN VAUDEVILLE NOW

Frank Myers, and his son Pete, returned to Sierra Madre Wednesday from a lengthy visit to their former home in Chicago where they attended the Century of Progress Exposition. Meyers reports that his son Bill remained in the East, where he is engaged in roller-skate exhibition work in vaudeville and expects soon to secure an engagement in the Exposition.

Ask Lawyers To Use Home Publications

Printing Of Legal Notices In Affected Areas Becomcoming Rule Now

Beginning July 1 attorneys with offices in various cities and communities of Los Angeles county, were asked to print their legal notices in their local newspaper, it was announced by O. B. Jayness, president of the Los Angeles Newspaper Service Bureau, a legal advertising clearing house situated at the Las Angeles Civic Center, cooperatively owned and operated by 80 newspapers of Los Angeles city and county, which includes Sierra Madre.

Heretofore the majority of attorneys of Los Angeles county have made a practice of concentrating all of their legal notices, regardless of whom the notices were intended to reach, in certain downtown legal journals which have specialized in this sort of business. As a result of this policy the suburban newspapers have been deprived of business which they need, and the purpose of the publication laws, which have been to publish notice to those affected, have been, more or less, subverted," said Jayness.

"The supervisors of Los Angeles county recently recognized this situation and voted to localize certain forms of public notices and the title and trust companies have undertaken similar action. We think the lawyers will fall in line because it is obviously unreasonable for an attorney handling an estate in Long Beach or Santa Monica to publish in a downtown legal paper of two or three hundred circulation a notice to creditors intended for perusal by creditors living and doing business in Long Beach or Santa Monica. We feel confident that lawyers will see the reasonableness of our contention that notices should be published in the localities which they affect.' '

Mr. Jayness stated that many attorneys have favored the downtown legal papers because of superior service which the papers were able to give in handling legal matters, but he pointed out that the suburban newspapers, through their cooperatively-owned downtown bureau are now prepared to offer a comparable downtown service for lawyers. He stated that the member newspapers of the bureau will be furnished with daily bulletins of court filings being made in Los Angeles and that the local newspapers also will be provided with clippings of advertisements run by the attorneys in newspapers other than their own local publications.

An advantage to local attorneys in publishing their notices locally was pointed out by Jayness in the additional recognition which attorneys woudl obtain through publication of their names in connection with the matter advertised in the local newspapers.

OBITUARY

G. H. VAN ANTWERP

George H. Van Antwerp passed away at his home, 109 South Lima street, on Wednesday evening. Mr. Van Antwerp had endeared himself to many during his residence of 12 years here. He was born 88 years ago in Buffalo, N.Y., and before his retirement was engaged in the mercantile business.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Louisa M. Van Antwerp, of this city; one daughter, Mrs. Grace Rowell, of Mesa, Ariz., and three sons, George L. Van Antwerp, of Los Angeles, Claude H. Van Antwerp, of Santa Ana, and William C. Van Antwerp, of South Pasadena.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning from Grant's Funeral Parlors.

Rev. Stewart R. Sheriff, of Bethany Church, will officiate.

Twenty-four new summer CCC camps are being established in California, enrollment having begun in all states of the union Tuesday. Of the quota of 7,052 additions to be made here the great majority will be of young men between the ages of 18 and 25 years. There will a number of replacements recruited from war veterans to fill vacancies left by men who dropped from the ranks during the last three months to accept outside employment.

We read that "when a Japanese young woman reaches 30 without having acquired a husband it is considered a tregedy." The same as in America.

Among the novel ideas recently advanced by the Tennessee Valley Authority is that of making mucilage for the government out of surplus sweet potatoes. Our wonder is why the demand for government red tape hasn't served to wipe out the cotton surplus.

Out of 57,200 rural homes in Florida only about one-fourth can boast of a bath tub or shower bath, according to a recent survey. This situation may not be so serious as it would be in an interior state. Florida has a tremendously long coast line, and a large element of her people may take a dip in the Atlantic or Gulf with little difficulty.

A decided increase in employment and trade payrolls in California has been experienced since last year according to figures released by the State Division of Labor and Law Statistics. Compared with the same period in 1933, employment in the manufacturing trades in May 1934 showed a 27.7 percent increase, while payrolls have increased 34.1 percent. A corresponding uptrend was evidenced in the wholesale and retail trades.

The California Fruit Growers Exchange reports total sales for last week of 1123 cars of oranges and over 700 cars of lemons. The average price on all sizes and grades of Exchange oranges and lemons for the week represented a satisfactory margin to the producer.

This big week's business of almost 1900 cars of citrus fruit, including grapefruit, returned to Exchange shippers over $2,600,000. Lemon shipments were increased to 110 cars daily this week for Exchange shippers, who ship over 90 percent of the State movement.

A saving of approximately $219,000 in the county charity department will be effected by the recommendations received Tuesday by the Board of Supervisors from County Auditor H. A. Payne. On a basis of estimates for January, Payne stated, such an amount could be saved in the boarding of single, unemployed men.

Ten billion dollars is the limit which the country may spend during the coming fiscal year under the President's estimates. Setting a peace-time record, the expenditures for the 1934 fiscal yar, which closed Saturday night last, amounted to over seven billion dollars, pushing the public debt to an all time high of 27 billion dollars.

In the new county budget $36,000 will be included to establish the peace officers pension fund which the new county ordinance put into effect Tuesday. Two percent of the salaries of the officers themselves is to be devoted to the fund. The ordinance provides that peace officers who have served 20 years will be eligible for pensions of from $100 to $200 a month.

California public utilities will yield State taxes exceeding $400,000 this year ,according to a recent audit of their gross revenues.

Records show that the State's weather year, that closed at midnight June 30, was one of the driest in official history. Rainfall was 30 percent below normal. The mean average rainfall would normally cover the entire State with a lake two feet deep, but this year's fall was less than three-fourths of the normal 23.76 inches.

In Waltham, Massachusets, the liquor licensing commission has "put the finger" on beer pitchers. Customers lingered too long over beer served in such large containers.

Hot weather holds no terrors for the modern who wears the latest in gadget wrist watches The device encloses a small quantity of dry ice, at a temperature of 109 degrees below zero which when strapped to the wrist cools the entire blood stream. One load of ice lasts an hour, and gives the same results as dipping the wrists in cold water.

Small Gain In Delinquent Taxes Shown

Percentage Here Is 14.06 For This As Against 14.05 For Last Tax Year

An atmost imperceptible increase in delinquent taxes in Sierra Madre was revealed in figures for the various municipalities of Los Angeles county, issued by County Auditor H. A. Payne. For the 1932-33 tax year city and county delinquencies in this city amounted to 14.05 per cent and for 1933-34 they were 14.06. Throughout the county the delinquencies ranged from 2.44 in West Covina to 41.10 percent in Lynwood.

In 18 of the 44 cities of the county delinquencies were shown to be lower ;in 17 they were shown to be higher, some by only one-tenth of one percent. In other instances there either were no figures available, or else the cities collected their own taxes and thus the county auditor does not have the figures.

Following are the delinquency figures for comparison:

YOUNG PARROT TAKES FLYER ON THE FOURTH

A brilliantly feathered young parrot, still in the fledgling stage of aeronautics, celebrated the Fourth with a brief visit to the backyard of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Sherman, at 273 West Alegria.

Mr .Sherman, at no little risk to his fingertips, disengaged the Pol from a rosebush, thereby receiving a number of ill-tempered bites and a few incidental scratches. Just as the bird was about to be "retained" in a makeshift cage to await recovery, he squawked a loud Adios! and escaped in a flurry of green and gold feathers.

In A Social Way

A GARDEN WEDDING, uniting Miss Arvilla Belle Wilson, daughter of Mr .and Mrs. Vincent Wilson, of 405 Mariposa avenue, and Hilton A. May, of Arcadia, was solemnized at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon beneath the beautiful old oak tree at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Arthur O .Pritchard, 139 West Orange Grove avenue. Mr. Pritchard performed the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in an afternoon dress of pink georgette and wore a pink hat. She was attended by Miss Hildebrandt, of Arcadia, who wore blue. A. L. Packinham, of Arcadia, served as bestman.

Following a short honeymoon the young couple will make their home on North Hermosa avenue.

The 80th birthday of Mrs. Annetta B. Vickers, of 279 East Grand View avenue, will be celebrated with a family dinner party on Sunday in Los Angeles at the home of Mrs. Ollie Vickers O'Neal. Mrs. Vicker's birthday is July 9.

A surprise birthday party was given Miss Ruth Wheeling, of East Central avenue, in Long Beach on Sunday. Guests included friends and members of the family.

Mrs. J. D. Culver, of Sierra Madre Canyon, entertained her bridge club at her home on Thursday.

Mary Alice Harkness, of 555 West Montecito avenue, entertained 16 friends at a riding party on Tuesday afternoon at the riding academy of her uncle in Los Angeles.

In the party were Aaron Martin, Miriam McClanhan, Marjorie Morgan, Sadie Sellars, Burr Tupper, Cynthia Hull, Bob Wersted, Jane Anderson, Vernon Sorenson, John Morgan, Minor Harkness, Lois Lovell, Junior Young, Bud McRoberts and Mary Alice Harkness.

A reception, honoring Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Barth, of 80 West Grand View avenue, who were married recently, was held on Saturday evening at the Robert Miller residence, 700 North Auburn avenue.

Over one hundred persons attended the luncheon and bridge party in St. Rita's auditorium on Tuesday afternoon. The party was given as a benefit for St. Rita's Church by Mrs. W. J. Schiltz, of 67 East Highland avenue. Mrs. Parr, of Monterey Park, was winner of the cash door prize and Mrs. E. F. Rocklein, of Monterey Park was awarded a cake made in the shape of a lamb. Table winners at bridge, 500 and bunco were Mrs. J. D. Arend, of Los Angeles; Miss Mary Glynn and Mrs. C. Wollman, of Monterey Park, and D. E. Maloney, Mrs. Carl Graf, Cleone Riopelle, Mrs. M. A. Otte, Mrs. Helen Hill, Mrs. R. W. Krug and Mrs. W. J. Ropp, of Sierra Madre.

"How Odd Of God" Is Among New Books At Public Library

Very timely in light of the world wide interest in Hitler's reign of terror in Germany, comes the book "How Odd of God," by Browne, which is among the 11 non-fiction books secured by the public library recently. The volume deals with the age-old problem of the persecution of the Jews. In addition is the equally modern "Soviet Literature," of Reavey, and 14 entertaining novels.

Sixty-seven people applied for borrowers cards at the library during June. A total circulation of 5,985 books brought the June circulation total up 606 over the corresponding period last year, a gain of 11 percent. New books added include:

Fiction— Bottome, "Private Worlds;" Stern, "Summer's Play;" Farnol, "Winds of Chance;" Oppenheim, "Man Without Nerves;" McKee, "Lord's Annointed;" Banning, "Third Son;" Basso, "Cinnamon Seed;" Zweig, "Kaleidoscope;" Stribling, "Unfinished Cathedral;" White, "Family Affair;" Queen, "Chinese Orange Mystery;" Mann," Joseph and His Brothers;" Bromfield, "Here Today, Gone Tomorrow;" Duffield, "Stamboul Love."

Non-Fiction—Lippmann, "Method of Freedom;" Dos Passos, "In All Countries;" Reavey, "Soviet Literature;" Craven, "Modern Art;" Browne, "How Odd of God;" Seldes, "Iron, Blood and Smoke;" Laren, "Succulents;" Hart, "Colonel Lawrence;" Thomas, "Choice Before Us;" Brande, "Becoming a Writer;" Monk "Small Boat Building."

YOUNG FOLKS ENJOY MOONLIGHT TRAIL HIKE

A moonlight hike on Sturtevant Trail was enjoyed on Saturday evening by a group of young people. Before coming down the mountainside, a wiener roast was held at Hoegee's Camp. Mrs. R. J. Walsworth chaperoned the party. Those present were Misses Dorothy Walsworth, Marjorie North, Evelyn Solury, Cynthia Hull, Billi Dale and Marjorie Ashmore, and Bob Wersted, John Senour, Frank Vane, Randolph Twycross, Donald Blanke and Elmo Switzer.

New Retreat Director At Monastery

Successor To Father Walsh To Be Feted By The Layman's League

The post left vacant by the recent untimely death of Father Edmund Walsh, retreat director and architect of the Mater Dolorosa Monastery here, was filled by the appointment of Father Alban Hickson, C.P., who arrived in Sierra Madre Friday.

Father Alban assumed the duties of retreat director to conduct the weekend classes which were attended by 18 men from St. Vincnt's and Incarnation parishes. Wednesday morning, Father Alban served as celebrant at the Month's Mind Mass said in the public chapel for Father Edmund. He was assisted in the sanctuary by Father Angelo, who served as deacon, Father Kevin, sub-deacon, and Father Kenneth, master of ceremonies. The Mass was celebratd in conjunction with the Priests' Recollection Day.

Officials of the Mater Dolorosa Layman's Retreat League, which was organized by Father Edmund, will be introduced to Father Alban Thursday evening, July 12, when the district captains of the organization plan a dinner in his honor at the Hollywood Knickerbocker Hotel. League President Frank Bearing will preside, and special guests will include Father Edwin Ronan, rector of the monastery; Father Angelo Hamilton, assistant retreat director and others of the Passionist order.

Father Alban came here last week directly from St. Gabriel's Monastery in Des Moines, Iowa, where he has been serving in missionary work. He was professed a Passionist in 1913 in Louisville, Kentucky, and studied for the priesthood in monasteries at Chicago and St. Louis, Missouri. In 1920 he was ordained a priest by Cardinal Mundelein at the Holy Name Cathedral in Chicago, and from there was transferred to his Des Moins Post.

STATE FACING MOST CRITICAL FINANCIAL PROBLEM IN ITS HISTORY GOES ON SPENDING

Well Know Expert Presents Story Of California's Dilemma In A Serial

EDITOR'S NOTE— With a rapidly mounting State deficit and dwindling revenues, California, during the months just ahead, must solve the most critical financial problem in the history of its State government. It is a problem of vital concern to all taxpayers—and of special concern to California farmers, who rank among the State's heaviest taxpayers. Ralph H. Taylor, executive secretary of the Agricultural Council of California—legislative body of the farm cooperatives—presents the story of the State's financial dilemma in a series of four articles, of which this is the first.

By Ralph H. Taylor
Secretary Agricultural Council of California

After four years of depression, with skyrocketing costs and tumbling revenues, California's State government has a flat pocketbook, an outgo far in excess of income, a growing list of obligations—and a treasury deficit of some $31,000,000!

Like many of its citizens, the State is "broke!"

But unlike its individual citizens, the State is spending more than it spent in the days of unbridled prosperity—and with little prospect of changing its pace!

Although there has undoubtedly been extravagance in many departments of government, and a complete failure to measure-up to the urgent need for economy and tax reduction, the present dilemma is not merely a product of waste and inefficiency.

Government, more than ever before, if the whole story is told, is carrying the load for the individual. And it is this "load," depression-born and recovery-matured, which complicates the already complicated problem of State Finance.

To state the case briefly and clearly, the economic upheaval has been responsible for two pressing demands on government First, there has been an imperative demand for drastic retrenchment to lighten the tax burden Second, there has been an even more insistent demand for charity relief and re-employment projects to aid the jobless.

And the two demands are at cross-purposes!

Every dollar spent to help the unemployed places an extra dollar of taxation on the badly overburdened and protesting taxpayer. Yet the taxpayer, whether he happens to be a business man, a farmer, or a worker and homeowner, has little chance of enjoying the fruits of recovery until the unemployed become wage-earners and spenders.

And government, caught between these cross-fires, has continued to spend!

As a product of this condition—aggravated by the fact that the State's income has dropped sharply and steadily throughout the depression—State government today faces the greatest financial crisis in California's history.

With a depleted treasury, barely able to defray the few bills which must be paid in cash, the State has abandoned the gold standard—or at least the cash standard—and is paying off with I.O.U's, commonly known as general fund warrants.

On August 1st, when it is anticipated that the registered warrants then outstanding will be redeemed, in accordance with promises made to the banks which have cashed and held them, the I.O.U. total is expected to approximate $32,000,000.

And after August 1st, unless all signs fail, registration of warrants will again be in order. A new issue of the I.O.U's seems inevitable, in fact, if the State is to avert payless-paydays, shutdown of the public schools and the general disruption of State business.

Another complication, however, threatens to upset even the makeshift "put and take" system which has permitted the State government to operate thus far. This is the fact that no definite date of redemption can be anticipated or promised on the new I.O.U's, with the result that the willingness of the banks to continue cashing them is problematical.

But irrespective of whether the banks continue to cash the State's warrants, or whether the State's employes and creditors are required to "hold the sack," there is every indication that more than $30,000,000 in credit-slips will be outstanding at the end of the present biennium. To make the problem even more acute, there is the further possibility that the State will be unable to make the last two payments of the fiscal year for school support.

Such is the problem confronting State government—after four years of depression!

Speeding Banned

State Patrolman Servoss obligingly poses beside a 45-mile speed limit sign to illustrate a warning to motorists from the Auto Club of Southern California that speed laws are being rigidly enforced. Speeding accidents annually reach a peak during mid-summer.

Tennis Stars Loom Here

Graham Patterson, the tall, lanky 17-year old Sierra Madre player who surprised Southern California tennis experts by eliminating Bob Layng in the first round of play in the Pasadena junior championships, was himself eliminated in the quarter finals Monday by Rayfield Lundy

Patterson easily outstroked and outsmarted Lundy in the first set, winning 6-1. He dropped the second set by an identical margin. In match set he held the play well in hand, with a lead of 5-1, when Lundy resorted to chopping tactics and threw him off his form completely to finally drop the set and match, 7-5.

Apparently headed straight toward the Pasadena city title, the local player showed ever consistent and sometimes brilliant tennis Saturday in his defeat of Layng, who was the seeded No. 1 boy. The match was hard fought, going the limit of three sets, by scores of 8-6, 4-6, 6-4.

Bill Hanson, also of Sierra Madre, unexpectedly was handed his elimination papers in the first round Saturday, being handicapped much by insufficient space back of the P.J.C. sidecourt baseline.

Both Hansen and Patterson owe much to Louis Fuller, who has taken them in hand with expert coaching and instruction. Because of the unhurried thoroughness of Fuller's methods, each youth is advancing comparatively slowly, sacrificing spectacular play for form and substantial groundwork of strokes and court tactics.

Although Fuller dislikes premature predictions concerning his proteges' future chances in the tennis world, it is possible that either or both of these boys may be in the Southern California running in the next few seasons. Both have many faults to be overcome . . . Hansen could stand a bit of Patterson's consistency, while the latter would do well with Hansen's better pace.

It Was Too "Foggy" Or "Misty" For Los Angeles Visitor

Confused, Pete Keppler, of 41 Perkins Drive, Arcadia, strolled in the wee small hours Friday morning near the Sierra Madre cemetery. Seen by householders, Keppler was reported to the police. Standing on the dignity of unsteady legs he told Officer Jim Heasley it was so foggy he could not tell where the mountains were and had lost his sense of direction and was "all balled up."

"I am walking to the carline I want to go to Los Angeles," he said.

Heasley obliged him by taking him back to Arcadia, pointing out en route the advantages of the Arcadia cemetery over the local grounds.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

GEORGE NORRIS, Roy Walsworth, Bob Babbitt and Frank Lovell attended the convention of firemen at Long Beach last week and reported that the education in fire fighting was beneficial, but that the new dances are very difficult. Frank is a former tap dancer of fame but the young high school dancers are too much for him. The delegation came home with much information on how to fight fires, and a general knowledge on how to dance.

The Chief informed his wife that he would soon have a week's vacation. "That's fine, Will," said the controlling half of the fire chief's family, "now you can weed the garden, spade the yard beyond the garage, dig up those rocks, paint the roof, clean the chicken house, paint the kitchen and when you get through with that, we may go to the beach for an evening."

The next meeting night will be be on Friday, July 13. If there are any of the brave lads that are superstitious, it might be a good idea to bring along a rabbit's foot.

The Judge must have decided that the Chief of Police was bad luck, so on his last fishing trip he scaled the roster of the policemen and chose Harlan Gerlach for his latest fishing partner. But neither of them got enough fish to fill a tomato can. Harlan came home with bruises all over his anatomy from a fall that he claims he received when he missed the plank leading into the water. As he carried a boat, he missed his footing and fell off the walk. A drop of several feet. However, Harlan continues to wear the smile and enjoy his cigar.

Last Sunday just as the Chief had fallen into a sound sleep after having worked the night before, five brother-in-laws, with their wives and offspring, accompanied several uncles and aunts and made the Chief and his wife a visit. Bill tried hard to continue his sleep, but as the children of the gathering insisted on using his window for a backstop, he was forced to arise and join the women of the crowd in a bridge party.

When the firemen removed all the furniture from the "Quarters' last Friday, the room looked much larger, but still when six or seven fellows got to pushing mops and brooms around, there was very little room for the bosses.

BEDS of pansies, stocks and snapdragons that have become unsightly because the plants have gotten through blooming, can now be cleaned out, spaded, fertilized and planted to zinnias, marigolds, verbenas, scabiosa, petunias or such perennials as chrysanthemums, salvia, delphiniums, shasta daisies, gaillardias and Canterbury Bells.

Irrigate trees and shrubs permitting water to penetrate deeply. Sprinkling shrubbery does no good as the water does not reach the roots. It is well to mulch the trees and shrubbery and roses with barnyard manure. First make a good basin around the plant, cultivate the ground in the basin and then cover basin with manure, do not dig it in. This will mulch the tree, retaining the moisture and slowly fertilize the plant as well.

Roses have mildewed badly this last month due to the damp mornings. Powdered sulphur, sprinkled on the foliage is the best preventative for mildew that we have found.

If you will have stocky, bushy bedding plants, keep pinching back the young plants until they develop into strong plants. It lengthens the blooming season, too.

Avocado trees are bearing abundantly this year and because they are taxing themselves so much to make all this fruit, they should be given unusual care. They should never lack for ample moisture. An irrigation once a week would not be too often for young trees and once in two weeks for older ones. They should be well mulched with cow or steer manure as well as leaves and straw ,etc., and in addition they should be given small doses of sulphate of ammounia or other nitrogeneous fertilizer. This should be applied about every month using two or three tablespoonsful for young trees, increasing to two or three pounds for old ones.

I would advise thinning fruit if hanging too thickly. The Ward variety is apt to bear too heavily for the good of the tree. Thin it out if it is doing this.

Raid On Chicken House Laid To Hawk

Missing—21 ten-day old baby chicks. Otto Merman, of 116 N. Auburn, reported his losses to Officer Harlan Gerlach Monday, stating that it probably was his own fault for not counting his brood oftener.

As it was ascertained that no one climbed over the fence after the birds, and as it is fairly certain that such small creatures didn't fly out of the yard, there is reason to believe a chicken hawk was the villain of the piece.

Temple Windows Are Target Of Small Boy With A Slingshot

Caros Candeleria, age 7, awoke Friday morning with the spirit of conquest and adventure firing his young blood. No field for exploration lay near by, no big game was in sight, not even a respecable firearm was handy for honest prowess.

So Carlos whittled himself a slingshot and strode forth, as the romanticists would puit it. At last he found an ideal target, was deeply engrossed in loading and reloading his toy weapon when the strong arm of the law speedily ended his fun. His mother later agreed to foot the bill of Carlos' morning's pleasure.

The target had been the windows of the Temple Beth Israel.

New Activity Holds Interest Of Childs Dramatic League

The miniature theatre built by Robert Smith for the Children's Dramatic Guild of Sierra Madre is proving of great interest. Under the capable direction of James Alfred Dewey the scenery for the coming production, "The Queen Who Never Smiles," will be reproduced.

The plan is to reproduce each presentation, to be given by the Guild, in miniature.

Mrs. Eakman, who has organized a class for instruction in the technique of poetry has found real talent in this group. The following poem entitled "Poppies" was written by Marjorie Royce, aged 12 years, with no assistance other than four rules on technique:

The golden poppies in the sun
Will close themselves when day is done.

The sun has gone down in the West
Against the earth; 'tis time for rest.

Now everything has gone to sleep,
The poppies in the forest deep.

Thursday afternoon the Guild will present "Mary Lou's Plan," for the Mother's Guild. Friday evening the playlet will be repeated for another group of people interested in helping increase the amount in the costume fund

Gardener Charges Sombody "Popped" Him And Took Roll

S. Mori is not quite certain just what did happen. All he knows is that he left his work at Bella Vista Terrace late Saturday afternoon, and after a hazy interlude awakened to find his head bleedong profusely as he lay at the foot of his front steps at his 157 North Mountain Trail home.

Police were notified by a neighbor, S. Mohri was taken to a doctor to have his scalp sewed up, and it was discovered that at one time during the evening he quenched his thirst with some 3.2 beer.

Speaking in Japanese, through a translator, Mr. Mori said to Officer James Heasley: "Before somebody pop me on the head I have two $10 bills and three $1 bills in my pocket. Now I only have $1 . . . I do not remember what happened."

Women Accuse Door To Door Peddler So Police Chase Him

A peddler was ordered out of Sierra Madre Saturday by Chief of Police McMillan because he allegedly acted improperly toward women householders while peddling shoe laces and other small articles from door to door here. He denied that his conduct had been such as to give offense, but complainants held otherwise.

A. L. A. ACTIVITIES

By Minnie Stinman

THURSDAY evening, June 28th, will go down in the annals of Unit 297 as the longest and busiest meeting of a notable year. In the midst of committee reports, a messenger appeared at the door, "bearing rich gifts," which proved to be a traveling bag the size of a small steamer trunk. This was presented to President Leila Embree, a surprise gift from the Unit for her journey. On Saturday, the Embree and Stinman families gathered around a picnic table under the jacaranda tree at the home of Ben Stinman, and joined in a farewell dinner to the travelers. Promptly at 1 o'clock, Leila and her family started on a two-months trip, which will include the Grand Canyon and other points of interest, and visits with relatives in Iowa.

On Sunday morning, Lucile Pickett and family left at dawn, on an automobile trip to Kansas to visit relatives. They plan to return August 1st.

In the midst of all this rejoicing, came the sad news of a fresh bereavement to one of our valued members, Mrs. Grace Caukin, whose father passed away last Thursday at San Jose. The Unit extends sympathy.

Much interest was shown in nominations for Unit officers and delegates and alternates to Convention. President Leila announced that nominations are still open till the next meeting, July 12, when election will be hedl. All members who can possibly attend should be present July 12, to take part in nominations and election. This is really the most important meeting of the year, as action taken on July 12, determines the success of the Unit for the ensuing year.

England being the country to be studied this year under the direction of Fidac, Chairman Maybelle Barker arranged a very fine program dealing with various phases of English life and history. Augusta Coates gave an instructive and interesting lesson on the government of England, and Lucile Sparks spoke of the schools and great universities, where many students from this country attend. Maybelle then gathered up the threads of the subject in a brief resume of present-day life and conditions in England. The annual Fidac Congress will be held in London this fall.

Fidac is a gigantic enterprise that grew out of the World War. I has for is object World Peace, built on the sure foundation of friendship, understanding, and good will among the nations. It has carried its activities into the schools, where the children are given an understanding of the Fidac idea and encouraged to participate in the international essay contest. This is vastly different from the days when the teaching of history in our public schools bristled with distrust of other nations and antagonism for England in particular. Fidac is working along lines which it believes will bring all nations to living in peace like good neighbors.

Ten Inning Game Is Won By Kiwanians

Timely Home Run Ties Score And Paves The Way To A Victory

The Kiwanis Club team came from behind to win an exciting game 6 to 5 in 10 innings from the Dillon team of Huntington Park on the school athletic field Thursday evening.

Going into the seventh inning the Kiwanians were trailing 5 to 2, when by virtue of a base on balls to Marsh and successive hits by Young and Brain, they scored two runs to bring the count up to 5 to 4 against them. There was na further scoring by either side until the ninth, when with one away, Brain belted one to deep center field for a home run, tying the score.

In the tenth the visitors were held scoreless, while in the home half Ross hit safely and after stealing second, scored while Lorenzini was being thrown out at first.

E. LaLone releived Hedlund on the mound at the start of the seventh and held his opponents the rest of the way, not allowing a hit or a walk and striking out seven in the four innings he worked. The score:

Sierra Madreans Have Real Vacation In National Parks

Word was received this week from Mr. and Mrs. Guy F. Scott and Mrs. Fannie R. Sea, of Sierra Madre, who report that their motor trip through Yellowstone National Park has been a delightful one. Spending three weeks driving in the park, they first entered through the West Yellowstone entrance, have been to the North Gate, Gardiner, East Gate Cody, and will start homeward via the South Gate, Grand Tenton Mountains, Jackson Hole country Lake Tahoe and Yosemite.

Enroute to Yellowstone the party visited Hoover Dam, Zion National Park, Bryce Canyon Grand Canyon of Arizona, and Salt Lake City, continuing over scenic highways 89 and 91.

In their letter to THE NEWS, the Scotts and Mrs. Sea agree that Yellowstone combines the beautiful features of all the other National parks, with many others added of its own including the hundreds of active geysers, gorgeous wild flowers and wild animals. Already they have encountered elk, bears ,moose, deer, antelope, buffalo, grizzly, marmots, beavers and birds of brilliant plumage.

"We are having a real vacation," they write, "not having seen a Los Angeles newspaper since leaving. However, we are receiving the SIERRA MADRE NEWS, which we greatly enjoy. Met the John McAndrews family. They are en route to North Dakota, and we all went geyser chasing and fishing together, and enjoyed a fish dinner in camp at Lakeside."

Twelve Point Deer Caught In Trap Stirs Fern Lodge

The noisiest safe-and-sane 4th of July ever heard in these parts was staged in the rigidly protected National Forest area of the Big Santa Anita canyon very early yesterday morning—by a rip-roaring youngster named Buck.

Buck is a youthful 12-point deer, who probably would not be familiar to his fellows by his nom-de-plume. He introduced himself to R. B. Hosford, owner of Fern Lodge, in a distrubing manner, but his visit was brief albeit tempestuous .While nosing about the camp for an early breakfast, Bucky had the ill luck to get his head stuck in a 12-gallon garbage pail—a gallon for each of his velvety points.

As a result of the animal's wild efforts to free himself the loudest imaginable clatter ensued. The can was pounded by the deer's hooves, by rocks and boulders, by tree trunks. At last, in a slowly receeding chaos of noise, Fern Lodge's visitor disappeared down the canyon.

"The U.S. Government," commented Hosford, "is going to get a bill for a new garbage bucket.'

San Dimas Is Overwhelmed By Veterans

Hometown Soldiers Slug Viciously And Score 30 To 5 Victory

In a track-meet fracas that allowed every available Legionnaire bastman to strut his stuff, the local soldiers took the San Dimas veterans for a cleaning Friday night by a score of 30-5. Pratt, Young and Mathis stood out with five runs apiece, and nobody found much difficulty in connecting with Pitcher Angel's offerings.

Until the eighth the game promised to be a shutout, but in the final frames Pratt eased up, and the visitors put across their lonesome tallies. The score:

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE TO DISCUSS PENSION PLAN

A "Ritchey for Congress Club" will hold a meeting at the Sierra Madre City Hall, Friday evening, July 6, at 7:30 p.m. Addison B. Ritchey, candidate for Congress in this Congressional District, and other speakers, will talk on the subject of Old Age Pensions, Unemployment Insurance, and other topics, universal interest at this time. Everyone is invited.

$53,000,000 Drop In Tax Assessment Of County Expected

The Board of Supervisors Monday started in session as the county tax equalization board, as County Assessor Ed W. Hopkins turned over the 1934-35 assessment rolls for examination. Tuesday the supervisors commenced hearing appeals from taxpayers who considered their property valuations too high. Taxpayers wishing to appeal may secure protest blanks at the assessor's office on the fourth floor of the Hal lof Justice building in Los Angeles. Blanks must be made out prior to a hearing by the supervisors.

Expected to show total county property valuations of approximately two billion dollars, the rolls indicated a 53 million dollar drop from the past fiscal year.

SHOTGUN INSTALLED IN NEW POLICE CAR

Ho hum! Tuesday the new police car was driven down to Pasadena for an addition of a shotgun rack .The first hurry-up call thereafter was no bank robbery, but a call to 171 North Hermosa, where Max Alperin reported that unidentified small boys had thrown an ignited paper bag onto the front porch. Ho hum!

Chess Fans Asked To Meet At Park House On Saturday

Both children and adults wishing instructions in the rudiments and fine points of chess playing are invited to be present at the City Park House tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. C. W. Forman states that if sufficient interest is shown a competent instructor will be on hand every Saturday. Several persons have registered for instruction at THE NEWS office and a number of others have expressed the hope that it will be possible to form a chess club here for local as well as intercity matches.

Says His Daughter Improperly Quoted

Through E. C. Peck, an attorney, M. A. Copps, of this city, father of Mrs. Dorothy O. Copolungo who was granted a second divorce from Ralph J. Copolungo by Superior Court Judge Robert W. Kenny on June 26, has issued a denial that his daughter made any statement concerning the divorce after it was granted.

Mrs. Copolungo was quoted by the "Los Angeles Times" as saying: "Last night I had a tooth removed and today I had a husband removed and am glad to be rid of both."

In announcing that Mrs. Copolungo had been granted a second divorce the SIERRA MADRE NEWS reprinted the above quotation from "The Times."

"The statement was not made at any time by anyone," says the attorney for Mr. Copps, and THE NEWS is pleased to publish his statement.

Every Ford V-8 Model has
112" WHEELBASE • V-8 ENGINE
85 HORSEPOWER

The only change in the Ford V-8 is the change in price. Lower price does not mean any change in basic materials or in engineering. Ford has only one standard.

There is only one Ford V-8 car chassis. It gives you a full 112-inch wheelbase. It is a powerful car — developing a generous 85 horsepower. It has the only V-8 engine in a car selling for less than $2500.

Despite its bigness, its roominess and its power, the new Ford V-8 is the most economical car Ford has ever built. You save on gas and oil every mile you drive. Examine the new Ford V-8. Look at costly cars. The more high-priced cars you inspect . . . the more Ford V-8 features you'll see!

Two Women Get Quick Action from NEWS Ads

IF YOU want anything— no matter what it might be— why not use the WANT AD coulmn in THE NEWS? Two Sierra Madre women did so, and were amazed at the results.

Mrs. Leila Roulette, of 377 Sycamore street, lost her glasses . . . valuable ones She was advised to insert an ad in the "Lost and Found" division and the glasses came home to her pronto. "I was really surprised," said Mrs Roulette. "THE NEWS had barely been delivered when I recovered my glasses."

Mrs. T. L. Blanke, of North Sunnyside, had some pet kittens. She had to dispose of them but was eager to find good homes for them, and so she inserted an ad in THE NEWS.

"Well," she said, "imagine my surprise when cars began to roll up and the kittens were on their way to good homes before I had time to read my NEWS. I could have found homes for a score of kittens."
